ABOUT STOERA

Stoera is a home furniture brand, inspired by the Dutch word “Stoer”—meaning tough, cool, bold, and sturdy. These values shape the vision to create furniture that is strong in character, lasting in quality, and thoughtful in design. Each piece combines a mix of materials—solid wood, natural rattan, recycled elements, and innovative resources such as coffee waste and sanding wood residue—reflecting a deep commitment to sustainability and creative exploration.

Stoera designs embrace upcycled and recycled materials, with knock-down and flat-pack systems that reduce waste and support conscious living. Driven by a love for the earth, Stoera aims to be part of the sustainable design movement—contributing through responsible choices and real action. Stoera is bold by nature, timeless by design, and built with purpose—from the unexpected, for the everyday.

Arunika Series

The Arunika Series marks a meaningful step in our design journey—Stoera's first outdoor collection, created to support intentional living in open-air environments. Meticulously crafted from powder-coated steel and solid wood, this series features a lounge chair and stool that combine refined durability with quiet elegance, made to complement both residential and hospitality spaces.

Named after Arunika, the Sanskrit word for "first light in the morning," each piece reflects the spirit of slow living—inviting you to pause, breathe, and reconnect with the rhythms of nature. Whether enjoyed individually or as a set, the Arunika Series is designed for moments of stillness, conversation, and calm—where comfort meets clarity, and every morning feels like a fresh start.
